Speaking:

1. The song lyrics talk about self-empowerment and finding strength within oneself after a breakup. Have you ever had an experience where you found strength or learned something important about yourself during a difficult time? What was the situation, and how did it change you?
2. The lyrics mention doing things alone, like buying flowers for oneself or dancing alone, as a form of self-love and independence. Do you think it's important to be comfortable doing things alone? Why or why not? Share an experience where you did something alone and how it made you feel.

3. The song emphasizes the importance of self-love and self-care, suggesting that one can love themselves better than anyone else can. Do you agree with this perspective? Why or why not? How do you practice self-love and self-care in your own life?
